iPassNote360 Function v1.0.0.8

iPassNote360 is a set of account and code management apps. Everyone has numerous important data in life that need to be documented, especially from the internet or bank account and code data. However, these data are mostly written down only in notebooks but are oftentimes not to be seen by others. This is when you should use iPassNote360 to help you guard these important data. Each set of data features an alternative management code, which will automatically be locked up two minutes after you have activated it. Therefore you would not have to worry about this data being exposed or seen by others.
